Accents Grill Now Under
® K kosher Supervision

Baltimore, MD – Jan. 6 – Accents Grill and its catering division, Accents Distinctive Events, is proud to announce that as of early December, after a few months of planning, it is under the kosher supervision of the nationally renowned, internationally recognized Orthodox Union (OU) kosher supervision.

“Accents’ move to the internationally acclaimed kosher supervision of the Orthodox Union (OU) provides the restaurant and catering operations with significant new opportunities for expansion,” said Lara Franks, one of the owners of Accents.

In addition, Cocoaccinos Cafe and Catering will now be supervised by Rabbi Y. Tzvi Weiss. Rabbi Weiss is the Rabbi of Bais Haknesses Ohr Hachaim in Baltimore, MD. He received his S’micha from Bais Medrash Govoha, Lakewood NJ, where he learned for 10 years. Rabbi Weiss has over 20 years experience in the Kashrus industry. In addition to providing kosher supervision to numerous local and regional food establishments, he is a rabbinic field representative for the OU and the Chof K.

No other changes have been made at either business, and no changes are being planned for the foreseeable future. The mashgichim, menus, and products being used will all remain the same. The kitchens at Cocoaccinos will remain Cholov Yisroel. In addition, Accents Distinctive Events will now be catering dairy events under both the OU Cholov Yisroel and OU Dairy.

Accents and Cocoaccinos remain committed to providing Greater Baltimore and the surrounding communities with the highest levels of excellence in kosher food quality, service and environments, while at the same time maintaining the highest standards of kosher certification. A Mashgiah Temidi will be on site full-time at both locations, and will be available to answer questions.
